FATE OF DIRIGIBLE
REVEALED AS BODY
IS WASHED ASHOREDixmude Commander's Body
Is Found Floating Off
Sicilian Coast.FEARS 50 PERSONS ABOARD ARE DEADReport That Airship Had Been Sighted In Desert
Proves False.

Paris, Dec. 28.—The tragic fate of the giant French dirigible Dixmude was revealed today when official announcement was made that it had been lost in the Mediterranean.

The body of the commander, Lieut. Com. Duplessis, was picked up near Sicily.

It is feared that all the 50 persons on board were drowned.

The Dixmude had been missing ten days.

French Italian and British destroyers are searching for the missing bodies.

News of the loss of the great airship followed a report that it had been sighted 250 kilometers south of Insalah in the Sahara desert. Hope that the crew and passengers might be safe was turned into sorrow by news from Naples that the body of the commander had been found. This news made it certain that the Dixmude, helpless from lack of fuel and a disabled motor, had been forced down into the sea.

The Dixmude had set out from the air base at Toulon ten days ago to fly over the Mediterranean to Algeria. It was charged that the commander failed to communicate with the air ministry before departure of the ship and failed to take the precaution of learning future weather conditions.

Body Is Identified

The last message from the Dixmude was a radiogram last Friday conditions over Northern Africa.

According to information from Naples the body of Commander Duplessis was identified by papers in his pockets. His body was received on shore with military honors.

The body was found floating on the water off Sciacca on the Sicilian coast.

Vessels searched the vicinity for traces of the airship, but none were found.

Hope that some of the 50 passengers on board may have escaped death has not yet been abandoned. It was pointed out that the Dixmude carried parachutes and that some of them may have attempted to reach safety through use of them.

The same chivalry of action that obtains on the sea prevails upon air craft and it there were not sufficient parachutes to go around the captain and some of his officers may have stuck to the doomed ship.

WITHDRAW CHARGE
ZIGA IS RELEASEDWine Found In Cellar, So Mayor Dismisses The Liquor Case.

Dismissed when the charge against him was withdrawn, George Ziga, arrested by Chief of Police Thompson Thursday at the Broadway hotel for possession of some wine, escaped a fine, and was released. He proved that the wine was found in his own cellar and that no warrant had been issued for his arrest.

Last week Chief Thompson conducted a one-man raid on the place where some liquor bottles were retained as evidence but Ziga, the owner was out of the city.

When he returned the chief placed him under arrest. Since the law, Ziga's attorneys said, does not allow seizure of wine in a private dwelling, and especially when no warrant was procured, the man could not be convicted on the charge of possessing liquor. Mayor Post stated Friday at the hearing.

Washington, Dec. 28.—Today is Woodrow Wilson's 67th birthday. He passed it as he passes all of his days now, resting and reading in his quiet seclusion at home in "S" st., with a daily motor ride through the hills of Virginia and Maryland to break the monotony.

Hundreds of telegrams and messages were received at the "S" st. house today, some of them from abroad. The ex-president was said to be in his usual health.

FERREN, CHARGING SPITE WORK, WILL FIGHT TO FINISHMayor Says Action To Get
Liquor Fees Will Go
To Higher Court.

Charging "spite work" as having been responsible for the civil actions filed in the common pleas court at Lisbon, in which the state seeks to recover $2,424.24 in costs alleged to have been collected by East Palestine officials, Mayor Albert W. Ferren today announced his intentions to fight "the case to a finish, through the supreme court if necessary."

Summons in the suit filed by Attorney General C. C. Crabbe, Arthur H. Wick, special counsel, and City Solicitor L. M. Keyes, of East Palestine, were served upon Mayor Ferren and Chief of Police Walter Warren Thursday.

Dr. S. E. Conrad, prohibition officer, who died recently as the result of knife wounds sustained in a liquor raid in Youngstown, is also mentioned in the suit as owing the city of East Palestine costs amounting to $140.70.

This charge against me is a "frameup" and not only Mr. Warren and myself, but the Ohio Anti-Slavery League will fight this case to a finish, through the supreme court, if necessary," said the East Palestine chief executive. "My city council is with me in this fight and also the new city solicitor and the public as well."

"I have in my possession a copy of the ruling handed down by Judge Lyon of the Mahoning county common pleas court recently in which he decided in favor of the mayor of East Youngstown in a similar suit for the return of costs collected in liquor cases and other cases."

FIGHTS BANDITS,
SAVING JEWELS

New York, Dec. 28.—Fighting until she was exhausted, Mrs. Essie Simmons, 33, wife of a wealthy manufacturer, early today saved $9,000 of her $10,000 jewels she wore when attacked by five bandits.

The robbery occurred in the lobby of the 14-story apartment at 97th st. and Broadway.

One bandit succeeded in biting a $1,000 diamond from its setting in a ring worn by Mrs. Simmons. Another bandit struck her over the head with the butt of a revolver. She remained unconscious, screaming for help. The bandits fled.

Frank W. Bye Enters
Commissioner's Race

Lisbon, Dec. 28.—Announcement that Frank W. Bye will be a candidate for county commissioner on the Republican ticket at the August 1st primary created some surprise here, although it had been known to some of his close friends that Mr. Bye would be a candidate.

Mr. Bye for many years has been closely associated with the management of the county fair, and last season had charge of poultry and machinery exhibits. He is deeply concerned in the good roads movement, and has frequently appeared before the board of county commissioners urging the improvement of highways.

Want Danger Signal
At Waddell's Crossing

At the next meeting of the county commissioners, the Y. & O. Railroad Co. will be asked to place a red danger light at Waddell's crossing on the Leetonia-Lisbon rd. The same kind of signal is wanted at this crossing as has been placed at the Y. & O. crossings on the Lincoln Highway south of Lisbon.

It may also follow that the company will be asked to maintain a similar sign at its Lincoln ave crossing in Salem. The Pennsylvania company maintains a danger signal at the Salem crossing.

SCIENCE RECORDS
SEX REVERSALS IN ITS EXPERIMENTSEgg Laying Female Dove Is Completely Changed
Into a Male.CALLS DISCOVERY
VERY IMPORTANTScientist Says Control Is Matter Awaiting Well
Directed Efforts.

Cincinnati, Dec. 28.—Science has found and recorded an instance of sex reversal. Dr. Oscar Riddle of the research staff of the Carnegie Station for Experimental Evolution, located at Cold Springs Harbor, L. I., today told the American Society of Zoologists, one of the branches of the American Society for the Advancement of Science, now holding its 75th annual meeting here.

The importance of this record, Dr. Riddle declared, can scarcely be over-estimated either from the standpoint of popular interest or scientific research, as by it, it has been demonstrated that the "hereditary basis of no bodily or mental characteristic may be considered as irrevocably fixed and uncontrollable," and that control and modification "is a matter which merely awaits the definitely directed efforts of investigators of this branch of science."

An egg laying female dove was completely changed into a male through a tuberculosis infection, Dr. Riddle said.

Proved By Experiments

Investigations carried on for a number of years have proven, Dr. Riddle pointed out, that sex can be changed or reversed in the earliest or egg stage of the pigeon. Conditions in a full grown bird or animal are such, however, that a complete reversal of sex can be expected only as an exceedingly rare occurrence.

"In order that this rare occurrence when actually encountered, may be recognized for what it really is," Dr. Riddle declared, "it is necessary that a competent investigator shall have obtained and recorded certain kinds of crucial evidence for both sex stages of the reversed individual. We are now able to report a case for which the necessary facts have been obtained."

"The bird concerned in this extraordinary history was a female blond wing dove. At the beginning there was nothing to indicate that this bird was at all unlike the many thousand doves and pigeons which have been studied by us during a period of 13 years. She laid 11 eggs between Jan. 27 and April 15, 1914. Egg laying then ceased and a few months later the bird assumed the sex behavior of a male dove. Still later the former female developed the crow of the cock pigeon. During this period the body weight of the bird was increased so that the size of the bird came (Continued on fourth page.)

The new officers are: President, Dr. R. E. Smucker; vice president, W. W. Brown; secretary, J. M. Veatch; directors, B. L. Flick, H. D. MacCormick, E. V. Burt, H. M. Huffman and E. E. Enderlin.

After the first of the new year work will be started on the big tourist camp that the club is opening in Centennial park next spring.

Plans call for the largest tourist camp in the state. Many hundred dollars will be spent by the club in attracting visitors to Salem to stay on their journeys temporarily.

Calls Main Street
National Speedway
As He Dodges Cars

"Is this the international speedway?"

Many in Salem often think that Main st. is fit to be called that, and a Pennsylvania motor club official asked that question Friday morning after three cars crashed down through the main thoroughfare of our thriving city at very fast speed.

The visitor stated that he had never seen such reckless driving as one of the machines grazed his leg. He showed a torn pair of trousers as proof.

WOMAN'S SLAYER
ADMITS CRIMES

New York, Dec. 28.—Having confessed to the murder of one young woman and to other similar crimes, Frank Benner, 26-year-old chef, was to be questioned by detectives from Philadelphia and other cities today.

Benner also was to be arraigned on charges that he murdered Miss Estelle Phillips in October, to which crime police say he confessed.

In addition he admitted he assaulted Mrs. May Mitchell, pretty nurse at the Home for Consumptives, Chestnut Hill, Pa., on the night of Dec. 5.

East Palestine Wins Distinction For Its
Industrial Activities

East Palestine for years noted for having the largest individual potting operator in the United States in the person of W. S. George has won two additional industrial distinctions the past year.

C. F. Adamson, operating as The Adamson Manufacturing company, has achieved the distinction of being the largest manufacturer of welded steel storage tanks in the United States.

The Electrical Refractories company, operated by F. E. Owen, Frank Simms and Clarence Williams, are now admitted to be the leading manufacturers of electrical refractories in the United States.

Ute, Ia., Dec. 28.—Mrs. Fred Vauss, under hospital care for burns on her face and neck, sought in vain today for an answer to her question, "Where are my babies?"

A three-months-old baby and Eldon, 15 months old, were dead after their mother's insane frenzy had converted the smallest child into an oil-soaked torch and imprisoned the older brother, with his sister, Irene, six, in a closet filled with blazing, oil-soaked clothing.

The mother's mind was a blank concerning the tragedy, hospital attendants believed.

Fred Vauss, father of the fire victims, said he was working in

John D. Still Distributes Dimes

Mr. Rockefeller still carries with him a large supply of new dimes, one of which he presents to each of his friends and acquaintances as a keepsake. He is presenting one to Mrs. Charles F. AGED MAN'S BODY
IS FOUND; POLICE
HUNTING ROBBERSCleveland Man Bound And
Gagged, Then Murdered
By Robbers.

Cleveland, Dec. 28.—With Coroner P. A. Hammond holding an autopsy today to determine the exact cause of death, police were extending their search for two or more men who had bound and gagged Adam Wachtel, 79, then robbed and murdered him.

His body was found last night in his apartment, shortly after the murder. Two rifled pocketbooks were found near the body.

Police believe that Wachtel was strangled by the robbers, but Coroner Hammond holds the opinion that death may have been caused by a cerebral hemorrhage, induced by shock.

Finger prints found on a pair of scissors used by the murderers in an unsuccessful attempt to pry open a bureau drawer are the only clue to the identity of the slayers.

The crime was discovered by a apartment to help Wachtel pack up some clothes left by his wife who died a month ago.

When police arrived they said that Wachtel had been dead less than half an hour.

Millions Are Saved
By Elimination Of Industrial Wastes

Washington, Dec. 28.—Millions of dollars were saved manufacturers and consumers by elimination of the industrial waste in 1923, the department of commerce announced today.

IMPRISONS CHILDREN
IN BLAZING CLOSET

The barnyard of their farm home when Mrs. Vauss wrapped the baby in blankets laid it on the bed, poured kerosene over its clothing and set fire to it, then poured oil over clothing in a closet, set it ablaze and locked Eldon and Irene in.

The little girl broke the lock on the closet door and escaped from the flaming room. The father broke a closet window and got Eldon out, but the boy died from his burns in a hospital.

The father attempted to reach the baby's blazing form on the bed with a rake, but the bed was too far from the window and the flames made it impossible to enter the room.

MILLION DOLLARS

Year's Work.NEED FOR HOMES
HASN'T BEEN METRealty Men Expect 1924 To Be Another Banner Year
For Construction.

1923 has been one of the greatest building years in the history of Salem. When year ends next Monday night approximately 1,000,000 will have been spent in construction of public edifices and homes and additions to shops, schools and structures of many kinds, some not completed.

This remarkable year presages another banner year that will be just as great or greater, in the opinion of real estate and business men and builders.

Several very remarkable building achievements are listed in the 1923 records. Four of especial interest are as follows:

Big Construction Work
Completion of the new $125,000 Masonic temple on McKinley ave. This building was thrown open in June. Construction, not yet completed, of the new World War Memorial building opposite the Masonic temple, which will be a community center. The cost will be approximately $110,000.

Construction of a $55,000 addition of six rooms to the High school. These rooms are being used now. Work was started in the summer.

Construction of the first city apartment building. This three-story, six apartment structure on Chestnut st., very modern, marks an epoch in home building here, being the first of its kind. These apartments are not yet fully completed.

Real estate and business men and other prominent citizens were asked to estimate the amount of home building during the year, backed up by actual records.

100 Homes Built
The consensus of their opinions is that there were in the aggregate, including houses now under process of construction, about 100 homes built. Records show that that many at least, are up, and that about ten more were built so near the city limits that they can also be counted.

"I know personally of between 90 and 100 homes that have been built or are now being built. I would estimate these homes to cost about $4,500 each, although a safer average would be $5,000."

The man who made that estimate said that lots were not included in (Continued on sixth page.)

TWO MEN BURNED
IN AN EXPLOSIONFormer Salem Man Injured
In Accident At Well
Near Columbiana.

Ray Miller, 35, of Columbiana, formerly of Salem, manager of the Wisconsin-Ohio Oil company, was burned about the face, ears and hands, and Luther Lipp, 17, sustained similar burns, about 9:30 p. m. Thursday in an explosion at a new oil well being drilled on the Arthur Roller farm, south of Columbiana.

The lights on the drilling rigging ignited the gas in the well which was being drilled, causing the explosion. The men were sitting around the well, it is understood.

Friday afternoon it was stated that the men were not seriously burned and probably would be around in a few days.

BUILDING BURNS,
LOSS IS $500,000

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 28.—Loss estimated at $500,000 was caused today by fire that completely destroyed the Oakland building in the heart of the downtown district.

The fire, fanned by a high wind, menaced nearby structures.

A New Kind Of Boss

THE city of Philadelphia is to be disciplined, chastened, made to conform to the quality suggested by its historic title, "The City of Brotherly Love."

While we may question the wisdom of establishing a precedent which may be used to justify future dictatorships—for that is what it amounts to—the appointment of Gen. Butler to clean up the mess which has been too much of a task for Gov. Pinchot, his judges and police department, will not be looked upon with distaste by the country if he successfully accomplishes the task assigned him.

The president has granted a year's leave of absence to Gen. Butler, and he now becomes director of public safety in Philadelphia and will do his best to turn Gov. Pinchot's failure into success.

The situation demanding this unusual action is the result of liquor law defiance and violation in the Pennsylvania city. In a word, the government lends a distinguished and gallant fighting soldier to do the work civilians admit themselves to be incapable of doing. It is said of this Quaker fighter that he never yet has failed in anything he has undertaken. He may find the bootleggers and the corrupt officials aligned with them to be too much for him, but it is possible that he may be able to teach the police and officials of the city something of the discipline and efficiency he taught his heroic marines in a deadlier warfare overseas. But the Volstead law itself, the criminals, the ward politicians, the bootleggers and a wide antagonistic public sentiment, not always openly expressed, will represent the elements of a man-size job that will tax even Gen. Butler's energies and resourcefulness.

However, the friends of good government will hope for the success, in this instance, of the man whose courage, qualifications and the confidence of his fellow citizens have made him the virtual dictator of one of the largest and most important cities of the country.

The Shame Of America

THERE are more good than bad people in this country, more observers than violators of the law, but the shame of America, mob murder, continues to negative our claims as sponsors of a higher civilization. The mob is cruel, cowardly, inspired by passion, reckless of consequences, blind to reason, a ravaging thing of malice, hate and murder.

Former Governor Walton's claims and proclamations with reference to lawless conditions in the state of Oklahoma may have been exaggerated—there are good people and good citizens in Oklahoma, as elsewhere—but the recent shocking exhibition of wanton murder in an Oklahoma town suggests that his picture of conditions may have been truer to life than is generally supposed.

This town is said to hold to an unwritten law forbidding a negro from remaining within its jurisdiction for more than a certain number of hours. A hotel man had employed a negro porter. A mob visited the hotel and shot down the proprietor and his employee without giving them the slightest opportunity for self-defense. The proprietor died when interceding for the life of his servant. His prayers for mercy were unheeded by the murderers, who fled after the double assassination.

Words fail to express any rational condemnation of such cruelty and cowardice, such defiant outrage against the laws of humanity and the country, such contempt for constitutional guarantees.

Sooner than to allow a negro to work in their town, these men slew a fellow townsman along with their victim, and then fled.

If there be law and decency left in Oklahoma—and there must be—then these craven and brutal killers should be hounded down and made to pay the penalty for their crime. Lynchings and mob murders must be blotted from the record of our civic experience.

GOOD ROADS MEN TO MEET SOON

Better Highways in Buckeye State Their Aim.

BOULAY READY FOR BLIZZARDS

Democratic Dinner on Jackson Day May Prove of Nation-Wide Interest. Ohio School Teachers Gathering at the Capital—Physical Examinations of Freshmen at Ohio State University.

Columbus, Dec. 24.—A meeting of unusual interest will be held by the Ohio Good Roads Federation in this city on Jan. 16, according to announcement made by W. A. Alsford, executive secretary. The federation is composed of chambers of commerce, granges, automobile clubs and other organizations as well as individuals interested in better highways. Its membership extends into every county in the state.

R. E. Lee of Akron will preside over the session of the highway transportation group; A. R. McCulloch of Cambridge will direct the conference of the highway betterment section; Charles Kettering of Dayton will be in charge of the research division's meeting, and W. L. Robinson of Mt. Vernon and Albert Heriz of St. Mary's will lead the joint session of the highway education group and the state central council. A meeting of the board of trustees also will be held.

During the last year, Mr. Alsford said, the federation has been giving much attention to research and education and has compiled considerable data along these lines. A few months ago the federation began the publication of a monthly magazine, Highway Topics, for the purpose of disseminating information regarding highway improvements.

State Highway Commissioner Boulay announced that while he hoped there would be no blizzards during the next few months, he is preparing to meet any emergency that might arise by a heavy snowfall, and that he will keep the main avenues of traffic open all winter.

Employees of the highway department in every county have been notified to keep their equipment ready for use, and that in event of a heavy snow to clear as many routes as possible. The list of these highways include the National, Lincoln-Harding, Buffalo-Chicago, Three-C's, Dixie, Scioto trail, Cleveland-Marietta and all trunk lines of the state.

The Democratic dinner to be given here on the eve of Jan. 8 may mean much to national politics, party leaders say. It will be the only such function in Ohio at this time. There will be three Democratic ex-governors present, Harmon, Cox and Campbell, also Governor Donahay, Senator Pomerehne has tentatively accepted an invitation. Governor Cox, the candidate of the party for the presidency four years ago, will be given the opportunity to make his first expression since the work of clearing the decks for the campaign of 1934 began, and not the state merely, but the entire nation, will be all attention to know what he is thinking about the impending campaign.

The dinner is to be held at the Desher, whose dining room capacity is limited to 750, and the purchase of tickets is going forward so rapidly that the committee on arrangements is already beginning to consider what will have to be done about overflow demands, which now seem certain.

The committee expresses itself as highly gratified at the prompt response of the Democratic women who have been asked to co-operate in making the arrangements for the dinner. If there was formerly a disposition to hold aloof from the organization because of developments during the contest over suffrage it has entirely disappeared. There is a woman vice chairman on every subcommittee named.

Chairman Cordell Hall of the national Democratic committee and Emily Blair, the chairman of the women's division of the committee, will be present.

President Coolidge is the choice of the Franklin county Republican organization for the presidential nomination. Loyalty to the memory of President Harding and indorsement of his administration require that Ohio Republicans give their unqualified support to Mr. Coolidge was the sentiment expressed at a meeting of the Franklin county executive and central committees.

Mayor Thomas and William W. Williams were given the organization indorsement for delegates to the national convention. If elected, both will go to Cleveland instructed to support the Coolidge candidacy. Robert B. Barcus, colored attorney, and Mrs. Mary Atwood, wife of State Senator J. F. Atwood, were indorsed for alternates.

Figures just compiled from records of the physical examinations of 1,905 freshmen and other new male students at Ohio State university show that nine of every 10 have postural defects or are otherwise deficient in their physical development. Only 111, or 5.8 per cent, were rated in class A as being above average in muscular development, proper relation between height and weight, correct postures and general good health. Last year 123 per cent were in class A.

Low right shoulders were the most prevalent postural defect. This condition was discovered in 972, or 51 per cent of the group. Low left shoulders were much rarer, only 26 cases being found. Round shoulders ranked second among the postural defects, 675 instances of that condition being discovered. Left lateral curvature of the spine was third, with 315 cases.

Two hundred and fifty, or 13.1 per cent, of the men weigh less than 120 pounds. Only five of the 1,905 examined weighed more than 200 pounds. Eighty men were less than 5 feet 4 inches in height. This was a slight increase from last year. Cases of flat feet numbered 299, about the same proportion as a year ago. More than one in four of the men carried his head too far forward, 523 instances of this defect being found.

Nearly half the men had defective sight. Including men wearing glasses, 824 students were found deficient in this respect. Other fairly common defects included 152 cases of enlarged tonsils, 222 instances of teeth needing filling and 105 cases of teeth that needed extraction.

"Results of these examinations certainly suggest," declares Dr. J. H. Nichols, head of the men's department of physical education, who was in charge of the work, "that our public and preparatory schools might do much toward preventing poor habits of posture and the deficient physical development, if an adequate system of physical education, beginning in the first grade, could be adopted in the schools."

Dr. Nichols advocates a repetition of the physical examination at least once during the student's college course. "That would be a splendid thing," he holds, "preferably in the senior year. It would make it easy to compare their physical condition with that of the freshman year and to determine to some extent whether students improve or deteriorate physically during the four years here. It would also make it possible to check up on defects for which we have advised correction and to discover any new conditions which may have developed during the university course."

Boy Scouts Are Given Copy Of Lincoln's Bixby Letter

As a Christmas greeting an "In appreciation of the wonderful and excellent services being performed by the Salem Boy Scouts," Mr. W. L. Deming has presented the scouts with a richly framed fac simile letter of President Lincoln to Mrs. Bixby, of Boston, Mass.

Such a timely gift is greatly appreciated by the scouts, who have continually striven to live up to the ideals as lived by Lincoln, himself. In presenting the gift, Mr. Deming expressed the hope that it may help the scouts to become more patriotic American citizens.

As soon as Scout headquarters can be established in a suitable room, the letter will become a valuable addition to the wall decoration.

The letter, the text of which is familiar to nearly every one is as follows:

Executive Mansion Washington, Nov. 21, 1864 To Mrs. Bixby, Boston, Mass.

Dear Madam: I have been shown in the files of the War Department a statement of the Adjutant General of Massachusetts that you are the mother of five sons who have died gloriously on the field of battle. I feel how weak and fruitless must be any word of mine which should attempt to beguile you from the grief of a loss so overwhelming. But I cannot refrain from tendering you the consolation that may be found in the thanks of the Republic they died to save. I pray that our Heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement and leave you only the cherished memory of the loved and lost, and the solemn pride that must be yours to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom.

Yours very sincerely and respectfully,

A. Lincoln. Among other valuable additions to the Scouts' collection are a pair of Canadian moosehide and snowshoes, contributed recently by Mr. H. C. Nelson; twelve bound volumes of Indian history and legends, by the Bureau of American Ethnology, a full set of reports of the Ohio Historical society, and a gift from Mrs. Mary Pine, of a copy of "A man for the Ages."

POSTMASTER DIES SUDDENLY TODAY

M. E. Miskall, E. Liverpool Democratic Leader, Widely Known.

East Liverpool, Dec. 28. — M. E. Miskall, 61, postmaster of this city and one of the leaders of the Democratic party of this district, died suddenly at 12:30 a. m. today in his home at 410 Jackson st.

Mr. Miskall yesterday had apparently recovered from a serious illness which began when he was stricken with a liver attack on Monday, Dec. 17. He was confined to his bed for ten days and hope for his recovery was entertained until early this morning.

During the last eight years Mr. Miskall has served as postmaster of the East Liverpool postoffice. His term would have expired in June 1934. He had lived in East Liverpool 36 years, coming to this city in 1887 from Niles, where he had been born and reared. He served as ticket agent of the Pennsylvania railroad here when he first came to the city and continued in this capacity until 1895, when he was made postmaster of the local office during Grover Cleveland's administration.

For many years Mr. Miskall had been prominent in all civic and county affairs, at one time having been a member of city council. He also served as clerk of the county election board. Through his personal friendship for former James M. Cox, he was appointed a member of the state blind commission at Columbus.

In 1899 he became secretary of the Peoples Building & Savings Co., in which position he remained until appointed postmaster.

As a member of the Democratic party he had long been active in its affairs in city and county.

Besides his wife he leaves three daughters, Ima, Mary Agnes, Winifred, and two sons, William and Edward, all at home. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Mary Wagner of Chicago.

This is the fourth play to be given by this group, and it was said to have been the best. Old-fashioned clothes were worn by the characters, some of them said to be a half a century old. This feature created lots of merriment. Readings, recitations and songs composed the program.

Punch and Judy in China.

The origin of the Punch and Judy comic puppet show has been the subject of much discussion. Punch has been identified with Pontius Pilate, Judy with Judas the betrayer, or with the Jews and the play with one of the old "Mysteries." This notion is entirely without foundation, the Detroit News declares. The name Punch is simply a contraction of Punchinello (for Pulcinella, the buffoon of Neapolitan comedy), while Judy is probably derived from Judith, at one time a common name.

It is said that a character similar to Punch is founded in the puppet plays of Italy, Egypt, Persia, India, China, and Japan. Punch and Judy shows were introduced into London in 1923 by an Italian who erected a booth near Charing Cross for their performance.

Male Glands Found

"Forty-four months after this bird laid her last egg she died, showing an advanced tuberculosis infection of other organs, particularly of the spleen and liver. If any trace of the this time it was quite lost in the female germ gland still existed at cheesy tuberculosis masses which involved the above named organs. Two well formed male glands were found however, in their normal position. The bird was unquestionably a male at death."

As a result of this demonstration, Dr. Riddle said, it is clearly indicated "that the hereditary basis of a bodily or mental characteristic may be considered as irrevocably fixed and uncontrollable."

"It became wholly probable," he concluded, that all hereditary characteristics of every human being and of every organism are capable of reversals and modification, and that the accomplishment of such modification and control is a matter which merely awaits the definitely directed efforts of investigators in this branch of science."

STOCKS

PROFIT TAKING CONTINUES
New York, Dec. 28.—A continuance of yesterday's profit taking was in evidence during initial trading on the stock market today. The declines, however, were limited to fractions except in the cases of a few specialties.

Corn Products sustained the greatest loss, 1 1/2 to 1 5/8. Steel common improved moderately, to 97 1/2 but Crucible at 66 1/2 and Baldwin at 174 1/2, were fractionally lower.

Marion Oil, Texas, and Standard (New York) made opening fractional gains but the others showed off slightly. Coppers and rails showed little change. Studebaker dropped 3/4 at the start to 105 1/2.

NAVY PLANNING A POLAR EXPEDITION

DIRIGIBLE SHENANDOAH IS TO CARRY PARTY OF EXPLORERS TO ARCTIC REGIONS.

WILL START NEXT SUMMER

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington.—Apparently it is the desire of the men of the United States navy to be the pioneers in the field of extended air-flight marvels. It was a navy man, Admiral Peary, who reached the North pole. Now the navy proposes an expedition not only to the pole but to the region round about it with a view to mapping the territories and giving a full report upon farthest north atmospheric and geographic conditions.

About three years ago a dirigible made the voyage from the other side of the water to the New Jersey coast. This airship was to have been taken over by the navy of the United States, but through an accident it was destroyed. The story now may be told of an unfulfilled Navy department intention at that time, although then the request was that nothing be said about it. It was intended to man the airship with officers and enlisted men of the United States navy and to send it round the world, duplicating in a way the trip of the battleships which were dispatched by Roosevelt for a circumnavigation voyage which in a way should be an object lesson in American naval preparedness.

There are many dangers to be encountered by a navy expedition to the North pole next summer. There are the ordinary dangers of machine trouble, of storms and of some other things which are likely to happen in the air over almost any part of the world, but the cold of the Arctic region, plus the difficulty of finding proper landing places in fields of rugged ice, will be two of the sharp perils which the navy men know they must encounter.

Many Volunteers Despite Dangers.
Notwithstanding the known dangers of the trip, it is understood that volunteers for the expedition are so numerous that it is hard to keep a record of them. The crews that will take part in the voyage of exploration and survey will be hardy men. The navy having discovered the North pole, it is the navy's desire to supplement the discovery with facts concerning the northern regions.

The proposed trip to the North is in truth based upon a plan which was outlined by Admiral Peary years ago. If the Great war had not been brought upon the world, it is probable that the coming expedition to the North pole would have been attempted years ago. Money had been subscribed for such an expedition, but then along came hostilities and caused a postponement of the project. Naval officers say that during the World War dirigibles similar to the Shenandoah which is to attempt the flight to the pole next year were flown at altitudes where the temperature is as low as that which will be encountered in the Far North.

It seems to be the belief of some of the naval officers that the wind currents at the pole and near it are not likely to be appreciably different from those found in the more temperate zones. Navy men are not unanimous in this opinion, but it can be taken for granted that everything will be done to secure, so far as it is possible, safety for the airships in any kind of a wind from any direction.

Long Urged by Peary.

In a way the late Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the North pole, can be considered the father of the present project. It was Peary's desire that his explorations should be followed up by his country. He constantly urged expeditions of the kind which are to be undertaken next summer.

Years ago when Theodore Roosevelt was president and before Admiral Peary had made the pole, the writer happened to be in the cabinet room of the White House where some twenty-five or thirty persons were waiting to see the president.

Seated in a corner of the room Admiral Peary was recognized. No one in the crowd present seemed to know who the man in the dark corner was. Finally the door was thrown open and President Roosevelt entered the room. He looked about, spied Peary and instantly made his way through the throng to the explorer who then, by the way, was only a commander in the navy, grasped him by the hand, and turning to the assembled crowd, introduced Peary with the statement that he was one of the foremost Americans, and that he had the grit which made it certain that success one day would crown his life's ambition.

It was not long after this that President Roosevelt boarded Peary's ship in Long Island Sound and bade him farewell on the journey which ended in the discovery of the pole.

Government officials foresee air mail routes over the pole provided the expedition of next summer is a success and it is proved that dirigibles can make the over-the-pole flight fairly safely under the conditions there existing. Unless one studies the matter a bit with a globe and a map he does not realize that over-the-pole flights will shorten many routes now followed by ships carrying mail.

On July 1, this year, the registration of motorcars and trucks in the United States totaled 13,002,427.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, E. A. Johnson, 699 W. Lake st., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

Casper Cox, of Franklin township, through his attorney, William H. Spence of Lisbon, has filed an action in common pleas court for $1,500 damages against Richard Clark, Elias Monday and Earl Lynn, as trustees of Franklin township, claiming that the trustees by ordering a fill in the road at his property in Millport, the water flows into the dwelling, making it damp and unfit for use.

Case Is Appealed
Two transcripts were brought to Lisbon by the constable from the court of Justice of the Peace John A. Woodward of Leetonia, in the case of the state against Ed. W. Hall, the defendant being charged with removing two cows, mortgaged property, from the county without the consent of the owner. The charge against Hall was preferred by Thomas Cadwallader.

The cows were declared to have a value of $140, and a chattel mortgage on the stock is said to be held by the Salem Chattel Mortgage company of Salem.

The defendant is represented by Attorney K. L. Coburn of Salem and a motion filed in the Leetonia court for a change of venue was overruled by Justice Woodward, who bound Hall over to the grand jury under $500 bail.

Hall has denied his guilt in this case.

100 HOMES BUILT IN SALEM

The building cost, as it depends on the location of the lot what value can be placed on it.

One real estate man gave a very interesting lookin on the housing situation that has been acute for some time. He said:

"This year real estate men have been besieged with demands for vacant dwellings. I know that it has been the biggest demand that I have ever experienced here. It has been simply impossible at times to find a place for some people to stay in."

Sees 1924 Banner Year
"I hope that in 1924 there will be more homes than ever built. We certainly need homes, and as fast as they can be built. If costs of materials and labor do not go higher I am sure 1924 will be another banner year."

Some time ago a certain town near Salem boasted of its remarkable growth. A prominent business man said Friday that Salem can also boast of as great a growth as the city's normal building is usually only 75 homes this year's records showing a 25 per cent increase.

Homes were not built in any one particular section of the city, records show. Tenth st. and Jennings ave. hold the record of most homes per street but building has been scattered.

Usually when a city is built in "all over" it is a better sign of real growth than as if only one section had received the most attention, one man said.

On the outskirts three new additions appear to be thriving because many houses have been built in the allotments.

Vacant Lots Disappearing
With the city, which is now fast losing its vacant lots, most streets have gradually filled up so that a vacant spot is generally hard to find.

Streets have been extended, and as several mid streets are to be paved in the spring among them Washington and Sharp sts. there has been a rush for these sites.

The two most expensive homes built during the year are located on Lincoln ave.

Looking ahead, on the basis of the predictions of builders and those who handle real transactions, it seems that the city is fast growing and will in the next 12 months again break a record.

Extension of the city limits is a proposition now before council. The limits are extended many more homes will come under the wire.

FARM CLUB WORK BRINGING RESULTS

County Agent Pleased With Results; Girls And Boys Active.

By M. K. ZIMMERMAN

Lisbon, Dec. 28.—Throughout the past year the Columbiana County Farm Bureau, through its representative, County Agent C. E. Rowland, has been unusually active in club work among the young people of the rural communities. This activity has been reflected in poultry, grain, pig and calf club work.

There was much work done during the year with poultry raisers, not only among the grownups, but through the activity of three poultry clubs and the young people are the backbone and strength of these clubs.

In order to promote more efficiency in poultry husbandry in this county 12 demonstrators completed their work during the year. Several tours during the open season were productive of good results and each of these tours proved a matter of education to many interested in poultry.

There has been some tendency among poultry raisers in this county to use the Ohio mash and scratch feed for their stock and as a result there has been an increased egg production from many flocks.

Proper feeding of poultry for egg production is one thing, but there have been many who have not given the attention they should to the housing of their stock. Proper housing has been "drilled" into the minds of many interested in the industry and this has resulted in two modern poultry houses being erected in this county during the last year and 33 brooder houses. Plans for the poultry houses and brooder houses were those suggested by the County Farm Bureau.

Juniors Complete Work

It has long been known that too many poultry raisers failed to provide proper ventilation for their flocks during the closed season and in time the egg production is reduced, and the poultry suffer from forced confinement. Many former obstacles have been overcome by consultation with the Farm Bureau office here and it is believed that at the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau Jan. 16, next, that some discussion will be had about the poultry industry of this county.

Every boy and girl who started in pig club work during the year completed the work assigned them. Some results of this club work was shown at the last county fair, and went to prove that when the young people are interested in livestock and follow the suggestions of the farm Bureau experts that success crowns all efforts.

While the boys and girls interested in calf club work did well during the year, it has been disclosed that the parents of these youngsters did not provide them with the proper foundation stock, as was suggested when the clubs were formed. However, the boys are reported to have done well with the stock they had to start with.

Many of the boys wanted to purchase high type stock but when their parents failed to give them permission the youngsters had to be content to work with the best they could obtain.

In the canning club section of the Farm Bureau, the girls are reported to have done splendid work during the year, but it is said many girls who started their canning club activities did not finish the course.

GREAT SCIENTIFIC CONCLAVE OPENS

Many Notable Additions To World Progress Expected To Be Made.

Cincinnati, Dec. 28.—One of the greatest scientific conventions of the century got under way last night at University of Cincinnati. It is the 75th annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. The sessions will continue till Jan. 2.

Many notable additions to world progress are expected to be made. A $1,000 prize is to be given the man whose paper is the greatest offering to science. The 800 or 900 papers will be read before various sections and the affiliated organizations. Among these are the Association of American Geographers; the American Society of Zoologists; the American Meteorological Society; the National Council of Geography Teachers; the American Society for Horticultural Science; the Entomological Society and Sigma.

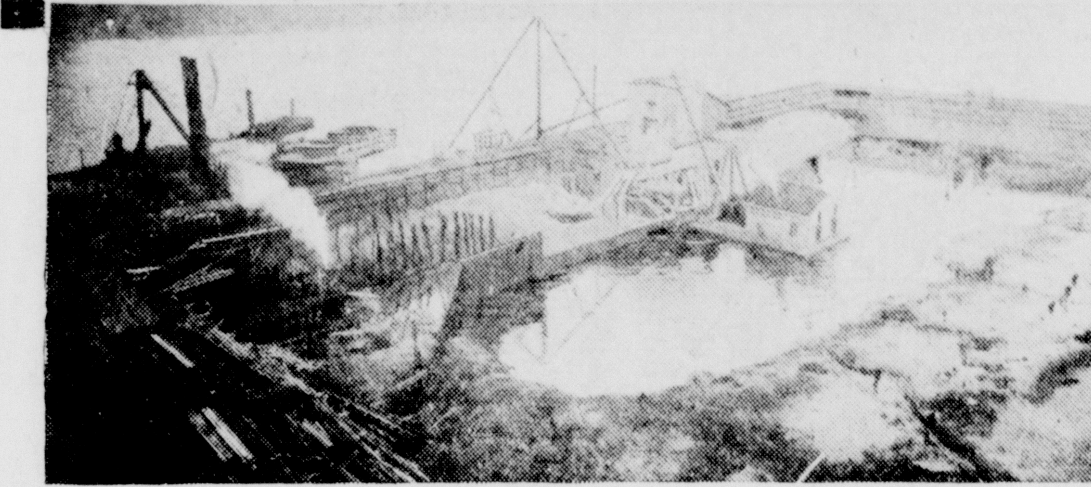

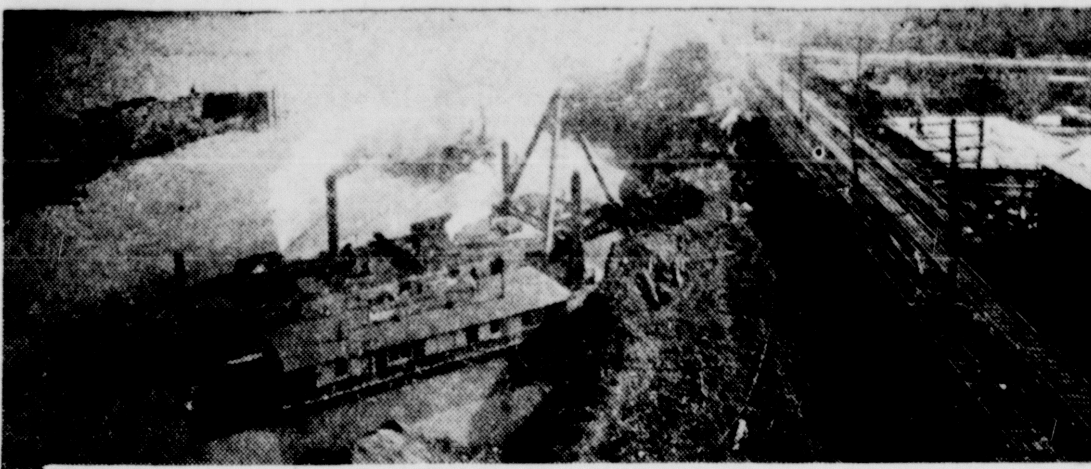

Dr. J. J. MacLeod, University of Toronto, who with Dr. F. G. Banting of that institution discovered insulin, will speak before the medical section. Prof. Richard P. Strong, director of tropical medicine at Harvard will speak on "the relationship of parasitic infections of plants to animals." The relations between medical associations and the American Association for the Advancement of Science will be discussed by Prof. Francis Peabody of Harvard.

A sectional meeting of interest will be that of the Sigma Xi. The lecturer will be by Dr. Willis N. Whitney, director of research of the General Electric company, on "the vacuum"; there's something in it."

Rushing Work On Big Electric Power Station

Rapid progress is being made on the electric power generating station on the Ohio river at Toronto which will be operated by the Pennsylvania Ohio Power and Light company and will be a new and highly efficient source of power for that company. The Salem Lighting company and affiliated companies in eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania.

The two pictures reproduced above were taken at an interval of three weeks showing how swiftly the work has gone forward. At the top is shown the method of excavating the bank from the river side, the excavated material being used to fill the coffer dam seen to the left. Below is shown the same site with the coffer dam completed, most of the water out and preparations being made for pouring the concrete.

The reinforced concrete foundations are now being built. The mild weather has expedited this part of the operations. But even real winter weather will not stop it, as freezing will be prevented by the use of steam coils.

The foundations will be ready for the steel of the superstructure by next April. The first section of the plant will provide a capacity of 88,000 K. W. The site has been selected with a view of an ultimate capacity four times as great. Every feature of the station will be of the most modern type.

THRIFT DENOTED IN BANK SURVEY

Continuation of Prosperity Foreseen in Buckeye State.

DEPOSITS GREATER THAN EVER

Chambers of Commerce Register Protests Against Another Annex to the State Capitol—Senator Fess Behind
Bill for National University—Fair
Equipment Survey Planned—Other
State Affairs.

Columbus, Dec. 27.—Based upon a report of bank conditions in the Buckeye state, the Ohio Bankers' association predicts prosperous days for the new year. Bank deposits and savings deposits have been higher during the year just ending than ever before, the report shows, beteakening a steady prosperity on the part of the business unit and thrift on the side of the individual. It is pointed out.

A feeling of satisfaction among the farmers has followed the Mellon tax reduction proposal and farm organizations over the state have almost unanimously voted to weld their interests with those of the merchant and manufacturer, the report states.
"Business has been able to keep up its strong pace only through the vast amount of bank resources that have without exception been placed at the disposal of the Ohio business man."

The present record-breaking condition of the banks of the state will allow them to bridge over the gap that usually comes through January and February, it is said. Marked results from tariff campaigns over the state and increased agricultural interest from boys' and girls' clubs have stampeded success upon Ohio's economic progress during 1923, the report declares, and the same program is urged for 1924.

Ohio State university trustees have appointed a committee to confer with the officers of the Harding Memorial association in an effort to obtain the chair of American political history and diplomacy, which is to be a part of the memorial. Some university is to be awarded the chair and this committee will make an effort to have the award fall to Ohio State. Lowry F.
Saker, Carmi A. Thompson and the senior president, Dean William Mc-Pherson.

Dean McPherson, present head of the graduate school, will assume office
as temporary president of the university Jan. 1. He succeeds Dean John J. Adams and will serve until the death of President W. O. Thompson makes his return to the office permanent.

Dean McPherson was born in Xenia
in 1865 and was graduated from William and Mary college with a master's degree. The degrees master and doctor of science were acquired at Ohio State in 1890 and 1895, respectively,
and Chicago university awarded him
the degree of doctor of philosophy in 1905. Dean McPherson's first teaching experience came in high schools at Toledo. In 1892 he was elected to the Ohio State faculty as a professor of chemistry, and became head of the graduate school in 1921.

The Columbus chamber of commerce has received letters from chambers of commerce and other business organizations throughout the state, concerning the action of the state building commission in its attitude toward annexing a state office building to the state capitol.

Many letters were recently sent out by the local chamber asking for resolutions regarding the commission's decision. Many organizations have deferred action until their next meeting.

Some organizations declined to take any action until the decision of the state architects had been given.
Nearly all, however, were of the opinion that another annex would mar
the beauty of the capitol, and urged that some other plan be followed.

The Dayton Chamber, although not having passed any resolutions, stated that "This is not the time for penny economy at the expense of the state and its people."

"Sometimes we forget that the ethics of government are far more important than brick and mortar," said
a communication from the Coshocton chamber, contending the state capitol and surrounding grounds should not be disturbed.

Cleveland and Lima organizations adopted a "hands off" policy. Cleveland said they had confidence in Columbus architects, but did not comment on the decision given by the local chapter of architects.

Other chambers in addition to those mentioned have condemned the proposed addition include: Mt. Vernon, Van Wert, Portsmouth, Elyria, Pistoria and Hamilton.

The Steubenville organization also condemned the proposal, although
"this penny-wise, pound-foolish recommendation of the commission might be more of a club to force down real estate prices for contiguous property, rather than a sincere desire of the commission to spoil the beauty and grandeur of the capitol and its grounds."

In condemning the proposal, the Marion organization was of the opinion that one "ugly annex, tacked on to the state house" is enough. Newark protested against "desecration of ed that the present and en- frsh, r
state ground."

According to the annual report of the state agricultural extension service, standard varieties of wheat advocated by the Ohio State university and experiment station have been sown for the 1924 crop on 450,000 acres by Ohio farmers, as compared with 175,000 acres for 1923 wheat, which varieties are reported to have shown an average increase in yield of 3.1 bushels per acre. Standardization of wheat has now been taken up by many farmers in every county in the state and care in selection of seed is being exercised in other grains.
But four farmers in the state were able to qualify this year in the 100-bushel corn club of Ohio, who succeeded in raising 1,000 bushels on 10
acres. The high man was Jacob M.
Paterbaugh of Dayton, who raised 108.37 bushels per acre; R. P. Overcarf, Lucasville, Scioto county, 105.3
bushels; P. L. Eichelberger of Washington C. H., 101.15 bushels, and O.
H. Anderson of Stryker, Williams county, 100.15 bushels. The four men will receive medals Farmers' week at Ohio State university in February.

Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio has drawn up a bill proposing to establish at the national capital a great graduate institution, to be known as the "National University of the United States." It carries an initial appropriation of $500,000. Had George Washington lived, this institution no doubt would have been brought into existence in the early part of the last century. When he died he left a bequest of 50 shares ($500 dollars each)
of Potomac stock for the beginning.

"If the government," said Senator Fess, "would make good the $25,000,
the gift of the Father of the Country,
for this purpose, it would materialize
now a sum sufficient to provide not only the necessary administration building, but an endowment sufficient to care for all the future needs. Twenty-five thousand dollars at 6 per cent compound interest from 1799 would amount to over $24,000,000. If we add to this such gifts as may be offered by benefactors, the endowment can easily be placed in the $100,000,000
mark."

The national university project,
which is being revived by the Ohio senator, has a history dating back to the very beginning of the government.
Washington made a national university a specific item of recommendation at different times in his messages to congress. He communicated his views in writing to such men as Randolph, Hamilton and Jefferson, members of his cabinet. He solemnly urged it in his farewell address in 1796 and in the same year he communicated his wish to the commissioners of the District of Columbia, even going so far as to indicate a willingness to set aside a fund for its establishment and to specify the probable site of the plant. Before his death he had secured the indorsement
of most public men for the project,
inside and outside of the two houses
of congress.

Dr. J. O. Engleman, field secretary of the National Education association, in a statement issued here, voiced the conviction that sooner or later a national department of education, with the head of the department as a member of the president's cabinet, will be created by congress. It is possible that this action may be taken at this meeting of congress, he said. Public sentiment in favor of such action has been growing rapidly during the past few months and the movement has been heartily indorsed by many national organizations.

The bill authorizing such action has been reintroduced in congress this year for the fifth consecutive time and indications are that the proposed measure will be given indorsement
this time by the national legislators.
Dr. Engleman pointed out. Senators and congressmen from all sections of the country have expressed themselves as being heartily in favor of the move and have predicted that a sufficient number of congressmen will fall in line to put the project across,
he indicated.

In his message to congress, President Coolidge recommended such a measure, suggesting the new department also include welfare work throughout the country. Federal appropriation to carry on the work of education on a national basis is also included in the provisions of the bill.
It was pointed out.

Another movement of nation-wide importance that is receiving the attention of educators is the rise of the junior high school and the junior college. Dr. Engleman said, the rise of the junior college being especially noteworthy, as it paves the way for young men and women to receive two years of college work in their own home towns, with a minimum expense.

A farm equipment survey, the first ever undertaken in any state in the Union, will begin in Ohio in January
under the guidance of the agricultural engineering department of Ohio State university, which when completed is expected to give a definite idea of the labor and machinery situation in Ohio. It is expected the survey when completed will help Ohio
farmers to reduce their labor and machinery costs per acre.

HIGH GIRLS WIN BUT BOYS LOSE TO ALUMNI IN OPENING CONTESTS

To the Salem High Girls team went the honor of winning the first basketball game of the cage season in the city Thursday night at the High gym
when that sextett handed the ex-High six a 15 to 11 defeat, but completely outclassed the alumni.

Although the Red and Black score is but 15 the team should really have marked up around 40 points, because of the inability of the high posse to locate the basket.

It was a fairly fast game for a girls' affair, and under the new rules
it was much faster than had been under last year's rules. The High team was always ahead, and the score was not much in doubt, but there were times that the alumni had the younger girls somewhat in a hole.

The game clearly showed Coach Rohrbaugh two glaring defects in his squad. One is the fact that his girls seem totally unable to get a ball near the basket on free throws.
There were around 35 free throws
last night and only one was made good, and that by Captain Tinsman
usually a star free thrower.

Another defect, along the same lines, was a marked hurrying in throwing goals, which lost many points for the High school team.
With a clear floor in many cases the girls threw wildly, and with no precision.

Gathered together at the last minute by Captain Harris, the alumni were fairly good at that. The girls had not practiced together, and of course had no team work, especially were they unable to get the ball much of the time.

With Miss Williamson absent a new forward, Katherine Patton was substituted and showed up well under fire. Miss Kent of the alumni generally got the jump on Miss Titus
but the tall undergraduate is improving fast.

The rest of the High team showed up well. Misses Tinsman and Cosgrove dividing chief honors. Miss Whinnery proved to be the sure shot of the alumni and she handled herself
well on the floor also.

SALEM NOT LISTED IN SEXTON'S OHIO LEAGUE CIRCUITS

Will Salem be represented in the new proposed minor leagues that are to be formed this winter by Mike Sexton?

That question has been asked several times lately, but as yet neither Sexton, nor any other baseball official, has directly included Salem in the list of clubs that will be asked to enter circuits.

Sexton has two circuits in mind
at present, with which he indirectly
plans to kill off the Mid West pro-league of outlaw clubs. One circuit would be in Western Ohio and the other in Eastern Ohio, taking in Youngstown, East Liverpool and Canton.

Salem is hardly large enough to warrant serious consideration, when cities the size of Youngstown are considered. Baseball on a big scale proved a flop here the old O. & P.
league serving as an example.

Big salaries, at least too large for Salem crowds, to pay each day of the week and the limited seating capacity of Reilly field, are feature on the other side of the ledger that must be considered.

Salem has needed a first class club
for some time. But the solution here-seems to be the need of an independent club rather than a league club.
Salem is a good ball town and would support a good independent club that would not play every day.

Hopes of some that the league club might be a possibility are thus rudely shattered. If some adequate guarantee, furnished by some philanthropically inclined persons, were obtained, Sexton would not hesitate a minute, but the minor league official has not now any desires to include this city on his list.

The total cost of the first voyage of Columbus was $7,000.

Intoxication Shows Alarming Increase

Albany, Dec. 24.—Intoxication in New York state shows an alarming increase in 1923 over 1922, according to a report made public today by the State Commissions of Prisons.

The number of persons committed to county jails, charged with drunkenness, in 1923, was 241 per cent as compared with 126 per cent in 1922. The percentage was 51.1
in 1923 as compared with 37 in New York city institutions. The intoxication cases reported by penitentiaries
however, dropped from 35 per cent
last year to 24 per cent this year.

While intoxication has nearly doubled in the last year, it is much lower than in 1914, the year before the World war.

BRINGING UP FATHER -

THE NEWS RADIO QUESTION BOX

Answers furnished by John Meyer, radio builder, of Woodland ave.

Q—Should the lead-in wire be insulated where it is brought in under a window? C. L.

A—It is always good practice in bringing a lead-in into the house not to let it touch anything except the insulators. If the lead-in touches any metal some of the signal strength will be absorbed. In some cases where the lead-in touches wood there is not much difference in the signals; however, when it rains the wood has the same effect as a metal object.

Q—How can I stop my set from howling. I have a standard regenerative set using two Variometers? J. J.

A—If adjusting the filaments of the amplifiers does not stop it from howling, try attaching a wire from the negative terminal of the battery, used for lighting the filaments of the tubes, to the ground post of the set. Should the howling continue, try grounding the iron cores of the amplifying transformers by attaching a wire to the cores and bringing it to the ground terminal.

Q—I have built an Electro-Lite Rectifier to charge my radio battery. How can I tell how fast it is charging? J. P.

A—Get an ammeter, one of the low reading type, and place it in series with one of the leads from the battery to the charger. Never let it get above eight amperes, and six amperes will do better. It will take more time to charge the battery but the battery will last longer.

KIDNEYS NEED LOTS OF WATER AT TIMES

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe it trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

There were 383,220 marriages in France last year as compared with 27,684 divorces.

O., for 50,000 tires a month.

The Mason concern recently reopened its plant at Bedford, O., and has announced that this plant will be in full operation about Feb. 1.

The Ford Motor Co., has been a regular customer of the Mason factory but the new order means a large increase in its consumption of this brand of tire, it is understood.

Outlook in general for the tire business for 1924 is very good. Mason plant officials say. Present raw material markets are stable.
